* A copy of the government's official notice is available at <http://jbh.ministers.treasury.gov.au/media-release/001-2015/> .

Claims Management

It is the responsibility of the reinsured to assess, adjust and pay any claims on eligible policies in accordance with the original policy terms and conditions.

ARPC is not aware of any insurance losses that might exceed insurer retentions under their agreements with ARPC. However, insurers should be aware that under the TI Act terrorism exclusions in policies cannot be applied.

Claims Notification

The reinsurance agreement obliges the reinsured to advise ARPC as soon as possible of any circumstances likely to give rise to a claim together with an estimate of ARPC's liability and thereafter keep ARPC fully informed of any developments regarding the claim.

Please submit loss and claims paid data to ARPC by logging into RISE at <https://rise.arpc.gov.au> and inputting all requested loss estimates and paid claims data into the relevant input areas. We ask insurers to report this data to ARPC in order for us to continue to advise the government of losses and claims relating to this declared terrorist incident.
